BURLINGTON, Ont. — Wolseley Canada is building a market distribution centre in the Greater Toronto Area.

The new distribution centre will use state-of-the-art robot automation technology, and will include a showroom, a store and counter presence for face-to-face customers.

“This facility will significantly enhance our customer experience by offering 24-hour customer pick-up and 60-minute delivery times across the Greater Toronto Area,” says Mark Gallant, Vice President, Supply Chain from Wolseley Canada. “It will create capacity and infrastructure to process more orders in a shorter period of time, which is crucial in today’s on-demand, just-in-time marketplace.”
